

$20,000
in FREE home improvements

◦WINDOWS
◦SIDING
◦SUNROOMS

CATCH THE BUZZ

CLICK HERE!

intake

Bar guide

Dining guide

Things to do

About us

Advertise

SEARCH

ADVERTISERS

July 19, 2007

Bang drums today

JESSICA HALVERSON

Ever feel like you just need to hit something? Take out your anger in a rhythmic fashion at the Community Drum Circle tonight at the Bongo Boy Music School. Drums are provided, you use your hands instead of sticks and all skill levels are welcome. Marketing folks try to pitch those new-agey and waterfall sounds CDs as relaxing music, but trust me, if you want to let loose with a little sound, it's more fun if you create it yourself. Even better, bring the family. The weekly event is free and open to all ages. If you liked the drum circle, Bongo Boy also offers music classes in drums, guitar, bass, voice, strings, brass and woodwinds. Then you can start a band, and be a rockstar -- all from just going to a little drum circle after work.

COMMUNITY DRUM CIRCLE

Where: Bongo Boy Music School, 8481 Bash St. Suite 1100.
When: 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. July 19.
Cost: Free.
Info: (317) 595-9065, bongoboymusic.com.

THIS WEEK'S BEST BETS

- July 19: Community Drum Circle
- July 20: Marion County Fair
- July 21: Kane County Eagles
- July 22: Gem Street USA
- July 23: Hoosier Salon 83rd Annual Exhibition
- July 24: Symphony in the Park
- July 25: Indianapolis Tennis Championships

Read 1 comment »

Type in your comments to post to the forum

IN THIS ISSUE

- COVER STORY
Chill out
- ADVENTURE
Rollin', rollin', rollin'...
- STYLE
Spaced out
- FOOD
Melon camp
- FACES
Delicious dishes
- AT HOME
Reviews of what's new
- BAR CRAWL
Loud music is always on tap
- CULTURE CLUB
Our top picks for arts
- MUSIC
Top 10 Live
- MUSIC
Growing on you

ARTICLE TOOLS

- Email this
- Print this

STORY TEXT

Font: Verdana

Size: 11