

North Indy Star

A GANNETT NEWSPAPER

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 2007

NORTHINDYSTAR.COM

Crusade pushes scores up

Northview Middle School promotes doing well on ISTEP >> Page 4

NEWS FROM YOU

Go on the Web to NorthIndyStar.com to read what others are doing and post your own updates

Inside Today

NEWS

PLANTING

New trees help beautify Nora Elementary School >> Page 2

SPORTS

BOYS SOCCER

Ranked teams will clash in first round of sectional action >> Page 5

JAMES YEE / The Star

The beat goes on

Californian Arthur Hull (left), who travels the world helping people play in drum circles, and Ed Gaus of Bongo Boy Music School in Castleton beat their drums during a free community drum circle Thursday on the parking lot outside the school. The school offers a free drum circle every Thursday evening. More photos, Page 3.

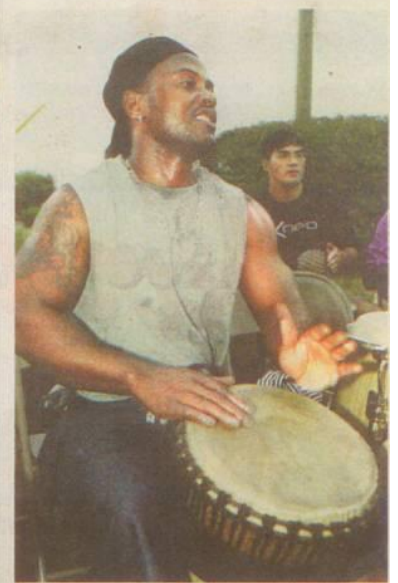

HIDALGO

WP PIERCE JEWELERS
Carmel

114 E. Carmel Drive
Carmel, Indiana
Hunter's Quest
317.574.3333

DRUM CIRCLE IS THUMPIN' SPECIAL

Blaise Zekalo, Indianapolis, uses his hands to beat out a steady rhythm as part of the free community drum circle.

Dozens of people young and old pound away on their drums and other percussion instruments. They helped form the free community drum circle Thursday on the parking lot next to Bongo Boy Music School, 8481 Bash St., in Castleton. The school offers a free drum circle from 7:15 to 8:30 p.m. Thursdays, and it's outdoors when weather permits.

JAMES YEE / The Star